GOLF COURSE MAINTENANCE

As we move forward into May, I would like to reflect back on April. If I had to pick one word to describe the month's weather, that word would be "wacky". We began April with unseasonably warm weather that began in late March. The weather was so warm in fact that bermudagrass was greening up everywhere and even the crepe myrtles were putting out new growth. That all changed abruptly Easter weekend when a cold front blew in shattering long standing low temperature records. It didn't take but a day or two of those temperatures to brown everything up again.

It is a lack of any appreciable rainfall for quite sometime now that is making the biggest impact on the course. It is prolonged dry periods like this that really show the inefficiencies of an irrigation system. Right now what we need more than anything is a nice slow steady rain that will penetrate and some warm temperatures to wake up the bermudagrass that was so green just a few weeks ago.

Overall, I am quite pleased with where we are with the course and I know it is only a matter of time before we get the rainfall and temperatures we need. As always, I am careful for what I wish for because it always seems that once it starts raining after a prolonged dry period, it never seems to quit.

~Paul
